Subject: Gek-kee 2nd call attempt

I just called Gek-kee again. A man answered and when I said who I was, he said she was not there. I left a message explaining we need to talk with her to discuss some patents on which she is listed as an inventor. I also told him I sent her an email explaining what we need to discuss and asking if she could please check her email. Finally I told him we did send a package containing documents on this matter and that the package was signed for by somebody there. He said he does not know anything about the package (even though I believe he signed for it)

He agreed to take a message which was to call Rich Stern at Heska. When I started to leave my extension he said "Thank you" and hung up.
